1. Introduction

The Department of Law Education, Mandsaur University, successfully organized a webinar on the topic “New Criminal Laws – Changing Dynamics of Criminal Jurisprudence in India” on 28 February 2026 from 1:00 PM to 2:00 PM. The session was screened by the Department of Agad Tantra in LT-2 to facilitate interdisciplinary academic exposure for students.

The primary objective of the webinar was to deliberate on the evolving framework of criminal jurisprudence in India and to analyze its academic as well as practical significance in contemporary legal and professional contexts.

2. Resource Person

The session was delivered by Mr. Shubham Upadhyay, Judiciary Mentor, Bhopal. He presented the subject matter in a structured, analytical, and lucid manner, enabling students to understand the transformative shift in India’s criminal law landscape.

3. Theme and Content Overview

The webinar focused on the structural reforms and philosophical shift in Indian criminal law, particularly the transition from colonial-era statutes to modern legal frameworks emphasizing:

- Justice-oriented jurisprudence
- Victim-centric legal approach
- Procedural efficiency and transparency
- Technological integration in investigation and evidence collection
- Speedy trial mechanisms
- Strengthening of institutional accountability

The speaker elaborated on the evolving interpretation of criminal liability, reforms in procedural law, evidentiary changes, and their broader socio-legal implications.

4. Academic Significance

From an academic perspective, the session emphasized:

- The transformation from punitive to reformatory justice principles.
- Alignment of criminal law reforms with constitutional values.
- Integration of contemporary criminal laws into legal and professional curricula.
- Relevance for students of Agad Tantra and Vidhi Vaidyaka in understanding medico-legal responsibilities.

5. Practical Significance

The practical implications discussed during the session included:

- Impact of new criminal laws on medico-legal documentation and forensic reporting.
- Responsibilities of medical professionals in criminal investigations.
- Procedural updates affecting investigation and trial processes.
- Evidentiary standards and expert witness roles.

The discussion effectively connected theoretical jurisprudence with real-world application.

6. Participation and Interaction

The session witnessed active participation from students (Total No students 33) in LT-2. The interactive discussion segment allowed students to raise queries regarding procedural reforms, practical challenges, and opportunities within the judiciary and allied legal professions.

The engagement reflected academic seriousness and interdisciplinary interest.

7. Outcome of the Webinar

The webinar successfully:

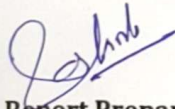

- Enhanced awareness about recent criminal law reforms.
- Strengthened students' understanding of contemporary jurisprudential shifts.
- Bridged the gap between legal theory and practical implementation.
- Promoted legal literacy among health science and allied students.

8. Conclusion

The webinar on “New Criminal Laws – Changing Dynamics of Criminal Jurisprudence in India” was conducted successfully through the collaborative efforts of the Department of Law Education, Mandsaur University, and the Department of Agad Tantra.

The lucid presentation by Mr. Shubham Upadhyay and the enthusiastic participation of students made the session academically enriching and professionally significant.

Such initiatives play a vital role in strengthening interdisciplinary knowledge and fostering awareness of evolving legal frameworks in India.
