As part of institutional extension and social responsibility initiatives, an Ayurvedic Health Checkup and Awareness Camp was organised on 31 January 2026 at Anganwadi Kendra, Ayodhya Colony, Mandsaur. The camp aimed to deliver primary Ayurvedic healthcare services to the local community, especially focusing on children and their caregivers. Beneficiaries were examined by qualified Ayurvedic consultants, and suitable advice was given based on individual health conditions. Final year BAMS students actively assisted in patient interaction, examination support, counselling, and documentation under faculty supervision. This provided them with valuable hands-on exposure to community-based healthcare delivery.
